

PREFERENCES IN WAYS OF ASKING QUESTIONS AND MAKING DECISIONS

By Allen F. Harrison, M.P.A. & Robert M. Bramson, Ph.D.

DIRECTIONS

This questionnaire has no right or wrong answers. It is a tool which can help you identify your preferred modes of thinking, asking questions, and making decisions. To be of maximum value to you, it is important that you respond as accurately as possible in terms of the way you believe you actually behave, not as you think you should.

Each Item In this questionnaire is made up of a statement followed by five possible endings. Indicate the order in which you believe each ending applies to you. In the blank box to the right of each ending, fill in the number 5, 4, 3, 2 or 1, indicating the degree to which an ending is most like you (5) or least like you (1). Do not use any number more than once for any group of five endings. Even if two or more endings seem equally like you, rank them anyway. Each ending must be ranked, 5, 4, 3, 2 or 1.
